Description

The mark consists of a circle symbol and, to the right thereof, the words "Orangeville" in capital letters and "Transit" with only the first T capitalized. The symbol consists of the following combination of shapes to form a circle: a white, italicized capital T with an orange semi-circle above the T, a blue wedge shape to the left of the T and pointed into the left-side corner of the T, and a green shape to the right of the T resembling an upside-down sail using the T as its mast. The word "ORANGEVILLE" is placed above the word "Transit" but in smaller size to fit between the first T and the letter "i" in Transit so that those words resemble a box; both words are coloured blue.
