Colour Claim

Colour is claimed as a feature of the trademark. The trademark has three parts: The upper part is a rectangle divided by a convex white band moving from the bottom left corner towards the top right corner of the rectangle. The left side triangle resulted from the convex white band dividing the rectangle is of the blue navy color. The right side triangle resulted from the convex white band dividing the rectangle is of green color. The rectangle has a capital white "L" in the center stretching almost from the bottom till the top of the rectangle. The rectangle has the upper left corner curved in a concave shape, and the lower right corner curved in a convex shape. The convex white band is thicker in the bottom left corner and thins out towards the upper right corner of the rectangle, intersecting the vertical bar of the letter "L". The image of the convex white band intersecting the vertical bar of the letter "L" suggests a suspended bridge seen in perspective. The middle part of the trademark is represented by the text "Lex Tripon" written in large bold blue navy letters. The lower part of the trademark is represented by the text "Building Bridges of Trust" written in regular green letters, smaller in size than the text in the middle part of the trademark.
