Type of Device Mechanical Computing Type Register for gasoline dispensers

Model No.

Description

1001

This register is the same as Veeder Root registers currently in use, except that the cent wheel and the ten-cent wheel are now divided into 20 segments. The cent wheel is numbered 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9; that is, it takes 2 cents for one revolution. The 10-cent wheel is numbered 00, 11, 22, 33, 44, 55, 66, 77, 88, 99, 00, 11, 22, 33, 44, 55, 66, 77, 88, 99; that is, it takes 20 cents for one revolution, and all numbers appear twice in each segment, so that there is no possibility of misreading a partly obscured digit. The numbers on both of these wheels are half the size of the numbers on the other wheels, and the window openings are also smaller.

Approved for use on all approved models of gasoline dispensers.
